

Watchtower Money: Zero Dollar Bill

A general attention-getter featuring with occult and "non-Christian" images of the Watchtower Society's origins

Watchtower Money

Watchtower Money serves two purposes: to protest the policies of Jehovah's Witnesses and educate the public about the hidden side of the Watchtower Society.

Consider this a sophisticated form of guerilla protest and awareness campaign. Each bill or check is designed to get the attention of the beholder and quickly provide information. This method is important when dealing with Jehovah's Witnesses who are programmed to reject anything that challenges their belief system.

Watchtower Money is designed after USA currency and check styles. This is because Jehovah's Witnesses are based in the USA and most financial contributions come from that country.

Thank you for your participation!

How to Use Watchtower Money

For Anonymous Protest

- Mail to JW Headquarters (see address below).
- Deposit into JW contribution boxes. Make a statement to the Watchtower money collectors.
- Leave in Kingdom Hall as a regular attendee or a guest during a meeting. We recommend leaving in bathroom, library room or other location where the person discovering it will be in private.
- As an option, write your own message or favorite JW website on the back.

For Public Awareness

- Jehovah's Witnesses often leave their magazines in public places like laundromats and waiting rooms. Slip a bill/check into the magazine with enough showing to get attention.
- Give to someone who is expressing an interest in Jehovah's Witnesses. They deserve to know the truth.
- Jehovah's Witnesses conduct street witnessing or set up booths in urban areas. Stand nearby and pass out Watchtower Money—see who gets more interest.
